Hello,

I am writing to ask the Sherfield English Parish Council whether they would consider putting a notice board in each of our bus shelters.

The fabulous new bus shelter is being well used and the the renovations are well underway on the other existing shelters improving a valuable Village resource. As they are a place where people stop it is an obvious place to put up various notices of village activities and it would be a great shame to spoil them with random postings. Therefore placing notice boards in each would give space for this and not become a free for all.

Given the current climatic challenges and general state of the world it is reassuring to know that the village is working on a resilience plan and I believe that these notice boards could become important information sharing points. In the event of loss of communication through the standard means of telephone or online tools, through perhaps cyber tampering as an example. Notices could be posted giving updates and important or urgent information gathered by the resilience officers. If this facility was made known to every home in the village it would be a reliable and reassuring service should a crisis arrive. Perhaps the church would be happy to allow their notice board to be used too and SERP would consider putting one up around the pavilion. Communication is key.

Would the Parish Council kindly look at this.

Many thanks.

Kind regards
